All houses (holiday lets and those that are permanently occupied) and businesses in the parish, should receive a free copy of the Gazette. If you are not receiving yours, please either speak to the person who delivers to your area, or contact Sue Cadman on 01326 291129.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Please send contributions to the Editor's email address shown below. Paper contributions can be put in the Gazette Box on the right of the shelves by the main window in Ruan Minor Stores. The deadline is the 18th of the month prior to publication.

Articles may need to be split over more than one issue, and might be edited.

If you have a photograph, painting or drawing that could be used on the front cover, please send it to the Editor.

Views and opinions expressed in submitted articles and letters are not necessarily those of the Editorial Team and Committee. The Editor reserves the right to alter submissions for length and / or diplomacy!

See us online at www.cadgwith.com and on Facebook "Grade Ruan Gazette"

ADVERTISING

Advertising in the Gazette is a great way of reaching everyone in the parish, and further afield. Approx. 590 copies are distributed every month and the rates are reasonable! A ¼ page is £5.50, a ½ page £9 and a full page £16.50 per issue, with 10 issues per year. A 10% discount is available if you pay for 10 issues in advance.

For more information, please contact
Moira Hurst or Peter Martin.

Noticeboard

Spring is well and truly with us and the visitors are reappearing. Here's hoping we have a busy and sunny summer ahead of us. I'm sure that those who visit us regularly will be impressed by the new Store and the Pavilion!

Happy Birthday in May to:

Eveline Julian died before Easter at the age of 89. She and her husband were a well known couple and spent very many years looking after the Village Hall and also St Ruan Church. They were a big part of the community. Desmond was a long serving member of the Parish Council.

Eveline was born in Poltesco then moving to Kuggar and then settling in Ruan Minor where her three children were born.

During the Second World War she worked in munitions to support the war effort, based in Surrey.

She will be sadly missed by all who knew her and we send our condolences to her family.

This sign was spotted on April 1st, disappearing almost as quickly as it appeared. Did anyone else see it?

Sally Watts

From Moira Hurst

Thank you to everyone for your great kindness and condolences on Tim's death. I have been inundated with lovely cards, kind words and deeds, for which I am truly grateful.

Thank you all.

From Stephen Holyer

I would like to invite all my friends to the Grade Ruan recreation ground pavilion to celebrate, with me, my 60th birthday on Friday, 19 May 2017, 7pm till late.

From Sarah Stephens

Hello All! After 22 years of being 'Secretary', (and I use the term lightly!!!) I am handing over my notebook and pen to the lovely Helen Holyer and Maggie Weaver.

I've loved all the very special evenings am hoping for some advice with a painting of Cadgwith that I was given as a gift, from my Father-in-law. Sadly he has now passed away. I have attempted to find some history of the painting/ family, with various online tool's, but unfortunately have come to a fullstop.

I was wondering if there were any families in Cadgwith or Ruan/Grade that may exist, or have existed with the name of E. Scorah?

The painting is signed, and dated 1941, and is stated to be of Cadgwith Cove. It depicts a fishing scene with Fishermen/ women with Lobster Pot's and is a watercolour.

I was wondering if any of your readers may have knowledge of the family named Scorah at all?

This is purely a personal interest, as I would dearly love to find out a bit of history of the picture/family, and if there was an artist residing in the area around that time.

My email address is sisternell@hotmail.co.uk

Thanking you in anticipation.

Love horses?

Help Ruan's own sanctuary to celebrate!

Ruan's very own horse sanctuary, home to more than 60 horses, ponies, donkeys and other animals, is celebrating its 30th anniversary this year at its Ruan Major home – and would love your help to ensure its future success!

Bolenowe Animal Sanctuary moved to Bonaventure Farm, near the Ebenezer crossroads, after outgrowing its founding home near Camborne. Since then it has developed into Britain's most southerly registered horse charity, giving vulnerable horses and ponies safe and happy new lives.

It not only cares for once-neglected or vulnerable animals on its 30-acre farm, but schools and trains ponies to allow them to go to live with loving families.

The picture below shows a young visitor with one of the Sanctuary's residents, Blue, a beautiful blind pony who is a permanent resident at the Sanctuary. Overleaf is one of the resident Shetland Ponies, Dee Dee.

“They may have been abandoned, neglected or abused,” says chairman Valerie Blake, “but every horse and pony is here for one over-riding reason – to give it a new, safe and cared-for life.

Many of our ponies find loving loan homes with wonderful families while still staying in our ownership so that their future is safe. Re-homing is hugely important for the horses and for us. It frees space at the sanctuary to rescue more horses and ponies desperately needing help.

We also train ponies for riding, to make sure that they are safe to transfer to suitable homes.”

A team of dedicated Trustees oversees the running of the sanctuary with a small staff and hard-working band of volunteers. But with success come new challenges – chief among them, finding enough volunteers to keep the work going in such a comparatively remote area.

“We do need people to help in whatever way they feel they can,” says Valerie. “It could be helping to run our popular little café on Sundays in the spring and summer, hands-on help with our animals by experienced horsey people, helping in our charity shops in Helston, fund-raising and in a hundred other ways. Like so many voluntary bodies, we have two constant needs: a steady supply of willing volunteers and, of course, money. Help in kind or in cash is always hugely appreciated.”

The sanctuary is open to the public on Sundays from May until October, when the café serves light lunches, home-made cakes and Cornish cream teas. Entry is free and dogs on leads are welcome.

TIM HURST 1942 - 2017

Timothy David Hurst was born in Leamington Spa on the 11th of April 1942 and grew up in Warwick. He took his English teacher's wise advice to go into journalism, and started work as a cub reporter on the Leamington Spa Courier, progressing to the Romford Recorder and had a spell on a trendy 60s magazine called Intro. He then moved into radio, as a newsreader with Southampton based BBC Radio Solent, before switching to TV as a reporter and presenter of news at the local BBC TV news programme South Today.

Tim built a ferro-cement boat and in 1985 took a year's sabbatical from the BBC and sailed the yacht to the Caribbean. Once there, he got the opportunity to run a charter yacht, and the "gap year" turned into three years. He returned to the UK in 1988 and became chief reporter at the Gloucester office of ITV's Central News South, where he reported on many of the big stories of the day, and won a national award for his work.

We were married in 1993 and were based in Poole in Dorset, although Tim worked in Gloucestershire for four or five days each week. We had a boat, which we sailed around the Poole and Solent areas most weekends in the summer. We spent our summer holiday each year sailing the waters of the West Country, usually making the Helford our turn around point for heading back towards Poole. Little did we know then that we'd land up living within a few miles of the Helford.

Apart from sailing to this area in the summer, we often also had a winter holiday in Cornwall and always loved the County. A year after Tim retired in 2003, I was made redundant and we decided to find somewhere to run a B&B. How lucky we were to find a suitable property in Ruan Minor. We moved into New Thatch in December 2004 and our first B&B guests arrived the following Easter. We ran the B&B for nine years and, as Tim often used to say, we could have written a book about it. We finally shut up shop at the end of the 2013 season.

Soon after we settled in Ruan Minor, Tim became involved in many local activities. For a few years, he volunteered with the National Coastwatch Institution, providing a lookout at Bass Point. He very much enjoyed Tuesday night Folk singing at the pub. Anyone who saw him there couldn't possibly hear "Manchester Rambler" again without hearing it in Tim's voice. He joined the Vintage Rally committee and soon became something of an expert at putting up the party tent, and directing traffic to the car park. He spent many an autumnal morning fixing and putting up Christmas lights in Cadgwith, and indulged his love of cricket by organising a couple of "fun" cricket matches on the Rec in the summer. He enjoyed helping to man the bar at the summer Beach BBQs in Cadgwith, telling customers all about the beers on offer. He gave me tremendous support in my activities with the Rec and on the Grade Ruan Gazette.

At home, he took an interest in cooking and was pretty good at it. Before our lovely dog Sammy's mobility was restricted by arthritis, Tim used to love taking her on walks at Kennack Sands and on the coast path. He was always happy to be pottering in his workshop, making things. He couldn't start the day without completing the Telegraph cryptic crossword and he was very rarely defeated by it. He remained interested in news and politics and could usually be relied on to have a sensible point of view on current affairs. He enjoyed spending time in the pub, socialising with whoever happened to be there on the day, and catching up on village gossip which he would come home and repeat to me with that mischievous look of his.

We didn't know it when we bought New Thatch, but it turned out to be one of our better decisions. We have been extremely happy here, mainly because of the friends that surround us. Tim made friends wherever he went because he was just such fun to be with. Whenever gales of raucous laughter could be heard, Tim was bound to be in the middle of it. Many tributes have been paid recently and they all mention his warmth, friendliness and love of life. I want to thank all our friends and family for the outpouring of love over the past few months during Tim's illness - it has been extraordinary. It's such a great tribute to Tim that people have rallied round me as they have.

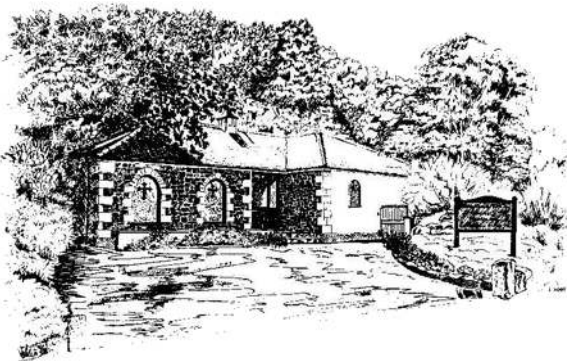

Tim was a warm-hearted, funny, generous, tolerant and loving person, reaching out to everyone he met, with his booming "Hello" always willing to see the best in everyone and to be friends with everyone, to embrace everything life had to offer with an infectious enthusiasm. Tim touched and enriched the lives of so many people and had so much more to give, but was taken from us far too soon. I hope he will live on in your thoughts, in your memories, and in your conversations for many years to come.

Recreation Ground News

Since getting our Premises Licence, we have been opening the bar every Saturday - opening about 2pm when there is a "home" football match, and usually a little later if there's no football.

There have been a couple of birthday parties, and it has been good to see a broad section of the community enjoying themselves! We showed the Grand National on the TV, holding a sweepstake amongst everyone there - another enjoyable evening.

With the lighter evenings, the football club has started mid-week training sessions on the Rec, and we have been opening the bar for them. Of course, the football season will be coming to an end soon - so we will need to start planning some Summer activities!

As we hoped, the bar is proving quite successful - it is generating the income we need to cover the ongoing costs of running the Recreation Ground and Pavilion, with enough left over to complete a few finishing touches.

In early May, we should be surfacing the storage areas behind the building and extending the patio slightly.

After the May Festival, we will be looking at completing the fitting out of the kitchen, also looking at what can be done to improve the drainage of the football field (there are a couple of patches that get a bit boggy after heavy rain!

As you will know, the next major event on our calendar is the May Festival - starting on Friday evening the 26th May with music from AJ and finishing with some sports on Monday 29th. Conveniently Saturday includes the FA Cup Final - which will be on the TV.

There is a full programme of the weekend as a pull-out supplement in the centre of this magazine - there should be something going on to please everyone!

On the Sunday afternoon there will be stalls in the marquee - if you would like one, please contact us. We would also welcome additional helpers to man the bar, act as stewards and countless other jobs to help the weekend run smoothly - if you would like to help in any way, please contact a member of the committee.

Many thanks for your support,

Mike Fleetwood

Rector's Ramblings

Christ has risen! Happy Easter! I am writing this on Easter Day and, though it is for the May edition, it will still be Easter then, all the way to Pentecost. And, anyway, now every day is Easter Day.

This morning started for me with a sunrise service at Coverack, on a beautiful morning: a calm sea, a few clouds, and a magnificent sunrise. Everyone was impressed with the beauty of the occasion. It was fitting for a celebration of the joy of knowing that Jesus Christ has risen - conquering death and overcoming evil in this world.

And yet, in so many ways, the world is not changed. The rising sun that we saw is the same as it was yesterday and will be tomorrow. And, during the services that followed, I met people rejoicing in the company of visiting family, and some carrying immense burdens of sorrow at the sickness and suffering of those they loved.

Has Easter not worked? Yes, it has worked, but to think that it changed everything immediately is to misunderstand its mercy and its glory.

When Jesus rose from the dead, in one sense everything was changed – no one has ever risen from death before, and his rising has additional meaning, as it shouts a great “Amen” of truth to everything that he taught and did. But, it would be better to say that his rising started something, something unstoppable. He has not just conquered death for himself, but he has pioneered a way, for anyone who comes to him in faith, to follow with him from death to life.

He has promised a day when he will return and finish what he started; so that Easter becomes a rehearsal for the day when all who love and follow him, will finally lay aside these frail mortal, sinful, bodies and enter into the full joy of his glory in the presence of our father God, for ever. But, we are not there yet. Now we journey with him – the Way, the Truth and the Life. Now, we still share in the sorrows that he bore for us on the Cross. Now we wait in the numbness of the entombed Saturday. But, in both suffering and waiting we know that he will bring us to rejoicing; more than conquerors through him who loved us. And, somehow, the suffering and waiting, are not wasted or lost: ‘When he wipes away every tear, our faces glisten more brilliantly than if we never would have cried.’¹

So, Easter, has changed everything. In Jesus, we can find comfort in our pains and patience in our frustrations; freed from their futility they can empower us to love others who suffer and wait, and to share with them the joy that Jesus brings, even in the midst of our sorrows and waiting. “You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will turn into joy ... and no one will take your joy from you.” (John 16.19-22)

Grade Ruan Recreation Ground

We are a registered charity (300545). Our object is to "improve the conditions of life for the inhabitants of the area ... by the provision and maintenance of a recreation ground". We are run entirely by unpaid volunteers, and all the money that we raise through events like this one is spent on maintaining and improving the facilities here in Ruan Minor.

We operate a licensed bar, in the new Pavilion, in support of sporting and community events on the Recreation Ground. The Pavilion is also available for hire, with or without the bar, for private functions and other activities.

We hope you enjoy the weekend!

Friends of Kennack

The Beach Clean held on April 2nd was well attended with several new faces, including a couple who were on holiday. We were blessed with glorious weather, which always helps! Having a number of people helping meant that we could also clean up further back from the beach and towans. Natural England has been clearing back a lot of the undergrowth and at this time of year, before the grasses, bracken etc gets going, it has enabled us to clear these areas too.

From the next Beach Clean on May 7th, we are going to hold them every two weeks. This will mean that they will be held on the first and the third Sunday of each month. Still at 10 am. We will aim to keep these to approximately an hour rather than up to two hours as they have been.

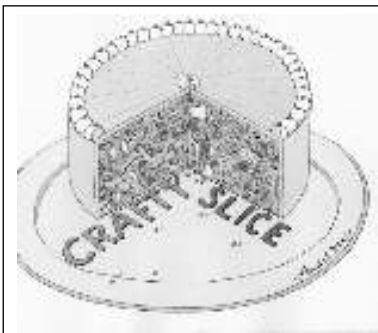

The Beach Clean on the 7th May will be a bit different for us, as we will be linking up with the SAS - no, not the military! Surfers against Sewage as part of their Big Spring Beach Clean. Our clean will be mentioned on their site and in their advertising of events around the country. We hope that a number of their members will be joining us on that day and be available to talk to about their work. Exciting times!

We are looking for a person or persons skilled in drawing and/or computer graphics. We have the ideas but not the talent! We want to get a logo drawn for FoK, together with artwork for posters. So we need it in a format that we can use to develop and to print. We are prepared to pay for the work, but our funds are limited, hence we are hoping that one of our very talented local folk will be able to help, rather than having to approach a commercial company.

It promises to be a busy but exciting summer, with beach events amongst others in the pipeline. We are always open to suggestions and fresh ideas, so feel free to contact us any time.

We look forward to seeing you on the beach!

BARRY SHERLOCK

1932 - 2017

*From Joanna Pearson and Mary Skinner
(daughters of Barry Sherlock)*

It is with great sadness that we announce the death of our father, Barry Sherlock. He coped admirably and independently in Ruan Minor after the death of our mother, Lucy last year and I know that he very much valued and treasured the friendship and company shown by all who knew him in the village. Thank you all for the kindness that you offered to him.

Barry was born in February 1932, the son of a music manuscript engraver. His parents were gifted musicians and his mother, Irene, was an incredible needle-woman, producing the most beautiful and intricate tapestries and embroidery. These gifts were absorbed by Barry and he loved enjoying his music and needle-work during his retirement in Cornwall and the photo above shows him receiving first prize for Tapestry in the 2013 Autumn Show.

Barry had a career in life assurance and held the position of General Manager of a Life Assurance company in London ten years after qualifying as an Actuary in 1958. In 1991 he was awarded the CBE for his services to the industry. Barry and Lucy retired to Cornwall in 1996 and were delighted to be living in a part of the country where there have been strong family connections for many decades. Our parents embraced village life in their own quiet way. Barry enjoyed playing the organ when required at the Chapel and was very happy to donate the cost of engraving the cups for the Spring Show. Mum and Dad preferred to shop at all the local shops in Ruan and the Lizard and supported the Village Hall and Pavilion in various ways. Latterly, Dad found a new talent for cooking and regularly took advice from Retallack, Lizard.

Just before Christmas Dad suffered a compression fracture in his back but he managed to come to Bristol for Christmas as planned. It was always our intention to get him fit and strong enough to return to Trerice, but his general health declined too much. He had heart failure in late February and was admitted to hospital in Bristol. He needed surgery to put it right, but it was agreed that he was too frail to withstand it. This combined with a number of other health problems contributed to a steady decline. He spent his last two and a half weeks in a lovely nursing home in Bristol where he was able to enjoy the glorious grounds, full of the spring plants reminiscent of those he had planted in his own garden at Trerice.

We would particularly like to thank Deborah Stephens for helping us in a number of practical ways during this difficult time and also Claudine Taylor and Jeff Bray who are doing a magnificent job of keeping the gardens of Trerice as beautiful as ever.

A selection of natural stone slabs, reclaimed items and off cut granite is on display at our workshops. We also stock a range of tiles, setts, building and landscaping materials with a sample service available.

Local and national fitting and delivery service available.

So whether it's a kitchen worktop, bathroom, fireplace or a new outdoor look you're after, please call our friendly team to discuss your project, or visit the workshop to view our selection of beautiful natural stone from Cornwall and around the world.

Gardening in May

by David Endean

Much has happened since the last article, I have watched a blackbird's nest come alive with chicks and seen them fledge. The swallows have returned and many of the trees have burst into leaf. Thankfully April has dried up March's rain and spring has remained about two weeks ahead of normal. But all this means there is stacks of work to do in the garden.

I have noticed that the Rosemary plants in people's gardens have been magnificent this year, their blue flowers have been appearing since the end of January but in May they will be coming to an end. It is best to prune them back to keep them compact, they are not the best plants to rejuvenate from old wood but nowhere near so temperamental as lavenders. Prune back the stems to just below where the flowers started.

Lots of other spring flowering shrubs will benefit from pruning this month. Shrubs like flowering currants, Forsythias, Pieris, Kerrias and flowering quinces all want pruning right now just as flowering has ceased. First cut out dead and damaged branches then a few of the oldest stems, but no more than a third of them, then do some light shaping. This will invigorate the shrub but maintain flowering next year. But my best advice on Daphne is do not touch them at all as they are very temperamental and will die at a small change in circumstance. Another temperamental plant is the Ceanothus (Californian lilac) trim just after flowering but only into green wood.

We are encouraged to buy those tender summer bedding plants earlier every year by the big retail outlets. I saw lobelia and Antirrhinums for sale in March this year, at this time I was only then thinking about sowing many of those half hardy annuals. These never used to be planted out until the end of May, now even the weather forecasters talk about it in March and April. These days we seem to be safe in early May. It's easy for these plants to get a chill,

We are truly passionate about our trade and seek to go that extra mile to deliver what we and many others believe to be the highest standard of thatching in Cornwall. We look past the run down attire of the roof which is essentially compost in its dying days and work to transform the thatch into some of our finest work yet, questioning at every stage how we can improve the design, shape or style to suit the individual buildings heritage.

even if they are not frosted you see their leaves turn white then drop off or they just stop growing. I know years ago one local nursery man said have you got your bedding ready yet? (This was in April). When it was remarked that it was far too early and they will die, his reply was, what does that matter they will be back for more!

By the time summer is in full swing these early plants will have shot their bolt and you will still be looking for something to fill the gap. Planting styles have also changed now and people do not want the beds of massed bedding plants in the garden borders preferring something with less work involved. But these tender plants still have a place, mainly in large pots and tubs in prominent spots around the garden.

Elsewhere in the borders keep on top of the weeding and put some staking or supports around many of the herbaceous plants now while it is easier, they will soon grow in and not be seen. Twigs can be good and informal but there are several plastic covered wire frames available which are good but more expensive. Canes and string does a job but rarely looks the best option.

Work goes on at great pace in the vegetable patch at this time of year with planting out and the soil now warm enough for direct sowing of all the usual vegetables. May is the time to plant your main crop of Runner beans, they are thirsty, hungry plants so dig a good trench and fill it with well-rotted organic stuff, be it garden compost or farm yard manure, add some fertilizer and back fill the trench. Put up a strong frame work for the beans to grow up then plant the seed. Lay the seed out on the surface of the soil at the recommended distance along the row then push them in the ground with your forefinger to a depth of your second knuckle. Hopefully by July you will be harvesting succulent beans. A similar job is done for French beans if they are climbing varieties but I prefer the dwarf Kenyan types like Safari which need little staking

I like to sow marrows, courgettes, squashes and pumpkins in pots early this month then plant them out later away from cold wind into ground rich with well-rotted manure. It can be good fun to have a go at growing a giant pumpkin.

These are a few jobs for May, the tip of the iceberg really but whatever you get up to out in the garden, enjoy your gardening.

QUIZ NIGHT NEWS

The 'JUST US Juggernaut' was finally brought to a halt at March's 'QUIZ NIGHT AT THE VILLAGE HALL' but it took a MIXED BUNCH outfit motoring at their very best to do it! THE BUNCH and JUST US slogged it out over eight hard fought rounds and it took THE BUNCH's mammoth 55 points out of a maximum 61 in the All-Nighter to finally take them past the winning post by a margin of just 7 points.

It was a mighty fine effort indeed by the new champs but well done again to the 'JUST US' teams for a truly splendid 4-Match winning run.

At the other end of the proceedings, THE BUCCANEERS handed over responsibility for guarding THE WOODEN SPOON to NEW BLOOD who had a rare off-day. However, I don't think they will be put off too much by the result which, I suspect, is seen as more of an honour than a chore!

Kev's Guest Round had to be put on hold this time and it was Janet who stepped in to test the assembled masses with some tricky posers in her 'Horsing Around' Round (!) A splendid set of challenging questions was well received by the contesting masses who thanked Janet for her efforts. Let's see what sort of a challenge next month's guest posers produce!

With the dust settled, wounds dressed and honours satisfied (if not even), the final 'Scores on the Doors' were wrapped up as follows:

Position	Team	Score
1 st	The Mixed Bunch	137.5
2 nd	Just Us 7	131.0
3 rd	The Buccaneers	117.5
4 th	Cliffhangers	111.5
5 th	The Square Pegs	93.0
6 th	New Blood	84.0

Thanks everyone for another very pleasant and quizzical evening which kept everyone amused but on their toes throughout.

Take care and see you all next time.

Quizmaster Dave.

Red Nose Day went really well and the beach clean was very successful. An amazing £130 was raised which included the sale of the red noses.

Charlie Coates attended the school assembly to present the Spring show winners with their prizes. You will see the front cover features the prize winning entry from Esme Harman. Congratulations to all of the children who entered some fantastic art work, Easter cards and handwriting. Mr Coates said that this year's judge, Simon Bradley, was amazed with some of the talent on show!

The Eggstravaganza afternoon was well attended and raised £250.05 which was a fantastic achievement. Half of the money is to go to the school council's chosen charity for this term which is Cornwall Air Ambulance and the other half towards school funds.

At the end of term Year 4/5/6 children attended the Prophets Progress journey at the Helston Methodist Church. This was a great experience for the children as they got to experience stories from the bible being told by different characters. A big thank you to Fran Lane and her team for the invitation. us along.

Tom Harman, the Headteacher of Keskowethyans Multi Academy Trust left at the end of term after eight years. He was given the most wonderful send off. The children sang some of Mr Harman's favourite songs. and at the end they all waved Everton flags whilst singing You'll Never Walk Alone. There were very generous donations to Mr Harman's leaving collection. We pooled all of the contributions and he was presented with a gift voucher.
